FILATELIC PHOOLERS

January's program is a combination of activities designed to find out just how much we really know. Philately is supposed to be the educated persons hobby, you know.

There will be a crossword puzzle, wordfind puzzle and a trivia quiz. If you have any good questions for the trivia quiz, bring them along to the meeting.

Do you have any stamps around you've been unable to identify? Bring them along and we'll see what we can figure out together.

Choose which activities you prefer; you do not need to do them all. Some you can take home and answers will be available at the February meeting. Bring along your catalogs and glossarys of philatelic terms. Be prepared for just about anything! SMH

An Interesting Stamp Story . . .

During World War II the OSS, the forerunner to the CIA, came up with a propaganda plan that involved the printing of an Anti-Nazi newspaper. These were then placed in envelopes and addressed to persons listed in German telephone directories. Counterfeit stamps were then placed on the covers. In January and February of 1945 the U.S. Army Air Force bombed trains in Austria. Then low flying planes dropped mail bags full of these covers beside the train wrecks. Nazi authorities then took over unwittingly delivering this mail. The operation was curiously codenamed "Corn-flakes".

Most of these stamps were made to look like their genuine counterpart. Some, however, were reworked to make Hitler's portrait resemble a skull. Deutsches Reich (German Empire) on the stamp was altered to Futsches Reich (Collapsed Empire).

If any members have examples of these oddities of WW II, it would be interesting to show them off at the next meeting.

Information for this article was drawn from "The Secret War" by Time-Life Books.
