Welcome to another Annual Edition of the Phila-Quad! This is the 57th year for this publication and your club!. This year's program promises to be very interesting with a return to the basics of the hobby as well as the Annual Cancer Auction, the White Elephant Auction and our first major event for this year, the Quad City Stamp Show!!

This year's show will be bigger and better than ever with 12 dealers. Plan to be there and please consider an exhibit. Last year was my first exhibit and the experience was really rewarding!

Sometime in the future . . .

"Where are we going, Grandpa?" "To the Post Office."
 "The Post Office?" "Well, it's called the Stamp Office now."
 "What are stamps for anyway?" "These days, they're just for collectors like your old Grandpa. But they used to carry the mail."
 "You're so funny, Grandpa. How could stamps carry E-mail?" "Not E-mail. Just mail, Paper mail."
 "Do you means faxes?" "No not those either. Things like bills and letters and advertisements - all of them were delivered by hand, from one person to another."
 "Gosh! That must have taken an awfully long time!" "From the mouths of babes . . . well, never mind."
 "Which stamp are you going to buy today, Grandpa?" "A very special cowboy stamp. It's supposed to be the last one in a series that started many years ago. The stamp Office people say they have finally found an autographed picture of Bill Pickett, and they've made it into a three-dimensional souvenir sheet that glows in the dark and plays six songs. I've already got the other Picketts: Ben, Bob, Bart, Burt, Bucky and all the rest. I don't want to miss this one!"
 "Have you always bought stamps here at the Stamp Office?" "No. For a while, I was spending my money at a place called the Fulfillment Service Center."
 "Don't worry. I won't tell Grandma!"
